Japanese High Quality Layered Fine Mesh Cloth.
Made in Japan. Since 1956

Nara, where has been the center of the culture since ancient times, flourished by improving various fabric skills not only clothing but specific fabric of indoor rituals for gorgeous court architecture, temples, and shrines after the capital was moved, too.

Our company is in that Nara and has been running a manufacturing fabric industry for a long time. We began to make efficient use of the scrap which comes from cutting fabric and stacked them in multi layered for private use. And they were so useful.

We started giving the fabrics to our friends and acquaintances for its convenience, and they also liked them. Thereafter we began to make it with a fixed size because we considered it would be more useful for people and this is the beginning of “Shirayuki fine mesh cloth”.

During the “Ominugui” cleaning ritual ceremony at Todaiji Temple, UNESCO World Heritage Site in Nara, our cloth is used to clean and purify the Great Buddha Statue.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Craftmanship

The needs of society are being changed with the world keeps changing constantly and time goes on. There are some processes of making our products that should be done manually in this mass production by machines era. There are some companies which put priority on profits when they develop new things though we do not take it for granted. We try to give the first priority to the high quality when we consider the new models or new products with meeting people's needs. We put priority on Shirayuki's high quality and seeking expertise without compromises. Now we can offer our customers the highest quality in Japan. Shirayuki's professional skills are used for every manufacturing process. We keep providing stable high-quality items by using the hands of people.

Design

We finally reached the Japanese representative dyeing "Kyo Yuzen" by pursuing the dignity and splendid color through imagining designs one by one, drawing, and dyeing. Although it was very difficult to dye "Kyo Yuzen" on our rough and thin weave fabric which is different from silk weave fabric used for Kimono, we can express our ideal designs with the careful handwork that is made by the professionals who have high skills and experiences in the end. There are some designs such as "THE BEAUTY OF JAPAN series" which is expressively dyed Kacho Fugetsu (the beauties of nature), "Kawaii series" which is full of prettiness, "World Story series" which express some scenes stay in people's minds. Every series provides you the ultimate beauty without giving in. We are very glad if you enjoy the beauty, pleasure, and season in your daily lives when you choose your favorite designs.

Features of Shirayuki Fine Mesh Cloth

The beautiful patterns of our fine mesh cloth are dyed into the cloth using the Yuzen technique. This traditional dyeing technique has been used in all manners of Japanese textile production ever since.

◆ Sustainable

Our fabric is Eco-friendly and different from the synthetic fiber which is derived from petroleum. It goes back to the soil faster than cotton after the biodegradation.

SHIRAYUKI URUOI

Our 'Moisture Towel' differs from a general towel in the point of large contact area with skin and getting rid of unnecessary dirt or sebum just washing with a stroke.

As for washing the body, you wash with a stroke in a bathtub like bathing a baby.

We suggest you using soap partially for underarms or bottom of the foot where you sweat a lot outside a bathtub.

After washing the body, you squeeze and wipe with a 'Moisture Towel'.

It does not remove too much moisture because the material is so good at moisturization.

Shirayuki Mesh Cloth are the product of a unique fusion of traditions from Japan’s two ancient capitals. Special cotton cloth of Nara and the Yuzen dyeing technique from Kyoto combine to create an item representative of the crafts, art, and history of Japan.

The beautiful patterns of our mesh cloth are dyed into the cloth using the Yuzen technique, named for its creator, Yuzensai Miyazaki, this traditional technique was invented in the middle of the Edo period (around 1700 A.D.) and has been used in all manners of Japanese textile production ever since.

Hand-wash in warm water before the first use to remove any excess starch.

We use natural sweet potato starch from Kagoshima.

Soak in warm water at 40°C (104°F) to let the starch soften.

We have products which have already removed starch : "Bear Bath Towel", "Bear Hand Towel", "Shirayuki URUOI Moisture Towel series", "Cooling Scarf Towel", "Head Band" and "Canvas series". These product has starch removed, so you can use it immediately.
